CLOSES WITH RUSH TO WIN LARCHMONT

Booth Gets Bad Fall in 'Chase, but Escapes with Shaking Up and Bruised Shoulder.

By Herbert.

(G. Herbert Daley.) Charlestonian proved yesterday at Belmont Park that his victory in the Withers last Saturday was not so much of a smile from the goddess of luck as indicated at the time. The son of Woolsthorpe-Espionage came right back and repeated his victory over Gainer in winaing the Larchmont Stakes, which, thanks to the Owners' Fund, had a guaranteed value of $5,000.

Luke McLuke, which ran a mile and a quarter at Louisville on May 23 in the sensational time of 2:02 4-5, a mark held almost sacred to Broomstick when he beat the great Irish Lad a head in the Brighton Handicap, was scratched, but some good three-year-olds went to the post, including Gainer, H. P. Whitney's Black Broom, Gifford A. Cochran's Figinny. which ran second in the Metropolitan Handicap, and August Belmont's Thorn-Under the circumstances, then, Charlestonian must rank among the best of the three-year-olds, conceding, of ourse, the place at the top to Pennant. The conditions were most unfavorable, as the track was sloppy from the heavy rain, but Charlestonian took up 127 pounds and ran the mile and a furlong in the surprisingly fast time of 1:33 3-5, a performance which would have been stamped creditable under such a burden for a three-year old over a fast track.

It may be said that a hard bottom made the footing much firmer than it looked and, according to "Whitey" Langdon, this just suited the Woolsthorpe gelding, which, however, will not extend himself ordinarily in deep, sticky, mud. Charlestonian beat Gainer a head in the Withers after the latter had been carried wide in the stretch by Old Rosebud, and there was every reason to expect that Gainer would turn the tables yesterday, but, on the contrary, the Marinet colt was beaten on his merits, although he again lost a little ground by going wide in the stretch.

Charlestonian appears to be a natural rater. As was the case last Saturday he was badly outrun in the first six furlongs and seemed to face a hopeless stern chase, but he closed six or eight lengths from the far turn home and raced through the stretch much like that famous old iron horse, Advance Guard. He won going away, too, and when "Whitey" Langdon, who trains the horse for J. W. Messervy, found his breath after another succession of wild, jubilant shouts, he remarked, and truly: "It was no fluke this Gainer, honest and game, handled his 130 pounds like a high class colt and lost no friends in defeat. His time for revenge is quite likely to come. Figinny ran back to his good race in the Metropolitan, in going, too, not considered particularly to his liking.

ing, and, of course, was not on hand to make and scored on Chase's single. watch Early Rose make the early pace and run well enough to give promi better things when she again goes to the Booth, the jockey, suffered an ugly fall in the steeplechase, and was lucky to escape with his life. Abdon blundered at the third jump and rolled right over the boy, who lay stretched out where he fell as if past medical attention. After being carried to the jockey room in the ambulance, however, he revived, and, according to the physician, escaped with a badly bruised shoulder and a shaking-up.

F. Ambrose Clark started two horses-Lysander and Meadow Lark-and seemed to have the purse at his mercy, but Skibbereen, thanks largely to the clever handling of Allen, beat them both.

Meadow Lark is a full brother to Meadow Sweet, which as a three-yearold beat Highbridge, the accomplished jumper that John R. Fell sent abroad with ambitions to win the Liverpool Grand National. Meadow Sweet so impressed her owner that she was shipped abroad, where she has won a number of

An illustration of the never-give-upthe-ship theory was furnished in the last event, when Paton raced to a sensational victory, after being caught flat-footed at the start and practically left at the post, He was between fifteen and twenty lengths behind the leaders in the run up the backstretch and to all appearances had about as much chance as a donkey in a field of Colins. He got to running. however, around the turn, and actually worked his way to the front in the last furlong to win going away.

A combination of circumstances aided his amazing victory. Swish ran away a full turn of the track on the way to the post, while Mr. Sniggs and Stonehenge ran out after forcing the pace.

Captain Rockwell, who had a narrow escape from serious injury at Piping Rock on Wednesday, was at the track looking none the worse for his fall. Royal Blue, which won three races in the name of Star of Love before it was discovered that the two horses were masquerading under a case of mistaken identity, started in the third race and ran quite as badly as Star of Love did before it was discovered that his right name was Royal Blue.

What's the matter with Johnny Mc-Taggart somebody asked yesterday. "Set down for ten days for rough riding at the barrier on the complaint of Mars Cassidy, the starter," was the answer. F. D. Weir's Grover Hughes won the second race like a Roseben. The colors Richmond, 6: Portsmouth, 4. Norfolk, 3: Roanoke, 6. made the comparison the easier.

Portland Finds Faust Is Insane

Charlie Faust, once mascot of the Giants, has been found insane by the authorities of Portland, Ore. He joined the Giants in 1911, spurred on by the belief that he was a great pitcher. Faust told McGraw that in a dream a voice had commanded him to offer his services to the Giants and that he had no peace until he left his farm in Kansas in compliance with the bidding of the voice.

No sooner had the volunteer been al lowed to take a place on the bench with the team than the fortunes of the Giants began to rise. Moreover, Faust showed an extraordinary ability to predict plays. But his mania grew, and fearing that the big rawboned countryman might do somebody an injury McGraw tried to low him at the end of the 1912 season. Not until this year were the Giants rid of Faust, for he made repeated trips to New York in an effort to get back with the baseball club.
